WBNSW & NAUTIQUE KICKSTART THE SEASON

NAUTIQUE WAS THE OFFICIAL TOW BOAT FOR THE LAUNCH OF OUR WBNSW RND1..

What a awesome start to the 2012 WBNSW Summer Series, over the weekend we held our first round for the 2012 Season, down at Windsor, on the Hawkesbury River.

Where we left off with a good amount of riders from the 2011 Summer Series we have now rolled in with double the amount of new riders for the start of 2012 wake season, which is amazing & great to see!!!

TONY IACCONI & NIC RAPA REVIEW THE FIRST ROUND TWO DAYS EVENTS...

NOTE: FOR EVERY ROUND WE WILL PICK 2 JUNIORS TO DO A REPORT ON THE BEHALF OF WAKEBOARD NSW.

WBNSW held there Nautique Come and Try Day and launched their first round for the season on the 23/24th September, it was a epic action pack two days. On the First day they held the come and try day, we used the boat that would be towing in the competition on the following day, this is so that the riders a better feel of the wake. It was great to see new riders on both days and awesome to see a bunch of family's and riders supporting everyone, the weather was awesome and the water was superb, seen a lot off good entertainment & funny moments by everyone. I would also like to congratulate everyone for getting in there & having a go, great weekend & can't wait for round2!!!-Tony Iacconi

Round 1 of Wakeboard NSW was a really good turn out, the day before the comp there was a come try day held , to show people what boat was going to be shreddin behind, that boat was a Nautique Super Air 210, the wash on the nautique was big and lippy which was good for most of us riders, after we had finished the come try day it was time to get a good nights sleep to then compete the following day. The comp day had alot of people , double the amount from last year but it just made the competition better, the most exciting comps for me to watch would have been the inverter class and the advanced for the reason that the invert class was the class that we doing all the flips etc, advanced class was good because there was an I.C.Q also known as a last chance qualifier, then everyone got to ride again . Big congratulations to Tony Iacconi for taking out 1ST,& also to all the other riders and a big thankyou to every one who helped on the day!!-Nic Rappa
SPECIAL MENTIONS: Thank you Steve-Nautique boats for supporting our first round, also to all our sponsors, riders, supporters & Committee!
